CALL FOR PAPERS

The Journal of Bangladesh Studies (JBS) is inviting academics, experts, and practitioners in various fields to send scholarly papers pertaining to Bangladesh for possible publication. JBS is a peer-reviewed journal and is registered with the National Serials Data Program, Library of Congress (ISSN No. 1529-0905), USA. It is also available at world-class universities such as Berkeley, Cambridge, Columbia, Cornell, Illinois, NYU, Princeton, Rice and other institutions.

Articles are encouraged from fields including anthropology, agriculture, basic sciences, economics, education, engineering, international relations, management, political science, psychology, sociology, and related areas. We seek this diversity of perspective because comprehensive development depends on a broad foundation of knowledge. Broadly, the articles should address Bangladesh's development problems and prospects from a theoretical or analytical perspective prevalent in academic disciplines. Authors are encouraged to prescribe actions and measures that are meaningful, practicable, and amenable to the sector(s) or issues they address. Articles must also be comprehensible to a wider audience who may not understand the esoteric language of a particular field. In addition, the articles must communicate outside the specific disciplines of the authors without being perceived as popular, journalistic writing. The articles must be written in APA style provided at the following link: <http://www.library.cornell.edu/resrch/citmanage/apa>.

Both short communications and full-length articles may be submitted. Analysis of recent developments, short reviews of newly published books or research articles, and expert comments on specific issues are treated as short communications, which should be limited to about 2,000 words. A full-length article, in about 20 double-spaced and typed pages, should provide a reasonable review of the literature and clearly articulate the nature of the problem or issue it addresses. JBS also invites critiques of published articles to foster debate and discussion. Critiques may be published on the basis of space availability and the advice of the editorial board. Critiques must be about two JBS pages and must be written in a positive demeanor to foster healthy discussion. JBS will attempt to obtain responses from the authors whose articles are critiqued. Please send your manuscripts to: Dr. Syed Saad Andaleeb, Editor, JBS and Distinguished Professor Emeritus, Sam & Irene Black School of Business, The Pennsylvania State University, Erie, Jordan Road, Erie, PA. 16563-1400. Fax: (814) 898-6223; e-mail: jbstudies@gmail.com.
